

If you want your I/O in functional mode, then don't use clamp_hold persistence while running PRBS

(This is MODE when CH is not on)

However, when PRBS is running and 1000 other pins are randomly (via mission mode functions) toggling, power-droop, cross-talk, noise sources are difficult if not impossible to isolate from high-value PRBS errors

Informative Text

