Welcome to Stuttgart

Getting to Stuttgart

Stuttgart can be easily reached

- by plane:
 - The Stuttgart airport offers a few direct transatlantic flights
 - There are frequent flights to Stuttgart from large international airports like London, Frankfurt or Munich
 - This allows Stuttgart to be easily reached by air
- by train:
 - The Hauptbahnhof Stuttgart is ranked 8th in the list of the most frequented long-distance railway stations of the Deutsche Bahn. With a daily count of 1280 train stops it offers an easy way to get to Stuttgart by public transportation
 - Getting to the Stuttgart main station from the airport
 - takes about 30 minutes by S-Bahn
 - trains run every 10-20 minutes
 - A good way to get to Stuttgart is to fly into Frankfurt and then take the train from Frankfurt directly to Stuttgart central station
 - I was informed that there will be construction under way on the train tracks in September 2020 so the connection from Frankfurt to Stuttgart might be limited – please take a look at the information from DB on available connections
- by car:
 - Stuttgart is located very close to the highways A8 and A81, allowing for easy and comfortable travel to Stuttgart by car
 - ...however, traffic in and out of Stuttgart during rush hours is awful and should be avoided

Sights around Stuttgart

The area around Stuttgart offers quite a lot of interesting sights and things to do. Amongst them are castle ruins, historic castles...

Sights around Stuttgart

... and interesting museums (i.e. Staatsgalerie Stuttgart, Mercedes-Benz Museum, Porsche Museum, and others)
