3. ABSTRACT: (a brief paragraph describing content of the presentation)
In the International Telecommunications Union – Radiocommunications Sector (ITU-R), Working Party 8F has been planning the development of recommendations for radio interface specifications for international mobile telecommunications (IMT) under the moniker "IMT-Advanced." The detailed requirements are in development, with proposal solicitation planned for early 2008. Proposals are to be based on submissions from participants, including ITU-R Sector Members such as IEEE. This tutorial reviews the background, status, and plans for IMT-Advanced. It also considers the suitability of IEEE 802.16 as the basis of a proposal for IMT-Advanced.
